All yearbook students are required to sell ads and concessions. Ads finance $\frac{2}{3}$ of the cost of the book helping reduce the price to the students. Concession money pays for the assistant editor, Ronda King, to attend the U of I communication class in June. The staff collected enough ad money to buy 8 extra pages of enjoyment. Yearbook also made a donation to Bryon Branting's fund.

Freshmen after school workers: Missy Johnson, Renee Fredrickson, Suzanne Jones, Tami Hocking, Carl Johnson
